THE CLASS OF 1987, at Commencement Exercises last Friday evening in the Telstar Regional High School gymnasium.

Telstar Class of '87 graduates

With poems and speeches, and tears and speeches, perspiration and sweat, 71 members of the Class of 1987 of Telstar Regional High School graduated last Friday evening, in commencement exercises.

Following graduation, many of the members of the class attended Project Graduation, organized by parents and faculty, at the Middlesex Hospital Convalescent Center.

In those days, they were treated to an egg and pancake breakfast by the Bethel Rotary Club, hosted at Gould Academy's dining hall.

Three student speakers were Valedictorian Keith Chandon, Salutatorian Kevin Powell and Honors Speaker Gerti Boller.

Keith recited his fellow graduates of the dictum of John F. Kennedy: "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country." She said this applies equally as well at the annual meeting of the young graduates who should get involved in their future schools and in their communities, whether in extra-curricular activities, church activities or civic organizations.

Boys, girls ousted in title games of Class C playoffs

Kevin quoted from the Bible: "Let the day's own troubles be sufficient for the day's own troubles; difficulties—even the four difficult years of high school—fade into insignificance when compared to someone who can't read," he wondered aloud. He suggested that the graduates go to the library and learn to read, trying about all the available volumes.

Keith had similar advice, advising his classmates that commitment is a prerequisite to success.

They did the district proud

Although they didn't come home as conquering heroes last Thursday night, the Telstar baseball and softball teams came home as examples of what hard work and teamwork can do. Townsfolk in the various towns that make up SAD #44 are proud of them.

Both teams lost in their quests to win their respective Western Class C titles. But both went much further in post-season play than anyone had expected early in the campaign. In fact, for the girls, getting to the title round of play was further than any Rebel softball team had ever gone.

The players, coaches, and loyal supporters all deserve congratulations for an excellent season. They all proved that excellence comes to those who work for it.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

A particularly exciting school year has drawn to a close, a wonderful year for the Bethel Bisbees and Crescent Park students. Many teachers and students have been involved in the Bread Loaf Writers' grant sponsored by Will and Marguerite Graham. "Citizen" readers have enjoyed sharing their work through the "Young Voices" pages. Perhaps they can appreciate the excitement for learning that produced these endeavors.

To the happy young writers—keep up the good work! To all you dedicated teachers—I look forward to another season of inspired activities. To the local citizens and businesses that have helped underwrite the "Young Voices" pages—we appreciate your interest in developing young people's minds and hearts. And to the Grahams—a huge thanks for your many hours of tireless work and for your cooperative efforts with teachers in the nurturing of children's learning. Another fun year coming up!

Nancy Davis, Principal
EBS/CPS

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the many people who supported improved police service at town meeting.

The additional money voted should allow much more patrol time, and much more reasonable working schedules for the men [and women] on the force. This would make it easier that a quick response could be made to any call for assistance.

Another important improvement is that the chief should have enough time to investigate the incidents in town. The previous schedule had nearly prevented this week, which is quite important in reducing the number of problems which occur. No amount of patrol time can assure that a crime will be stopped. It is virtually impossible for the police to be in the right place at the right time to actually stop something which is occurring. Good investigation is thus one of the keys to preventing crimes from occurring, because it offers a greater chance that the perpetrators will be caught.

The losses prevent will likely more than make up for the added cost of improved protection, and the reduced worry about what might happen next will be a bonus to us all.

Rebel girls finish best season ever

The Telstar Rebel softball team concluded its 1987 season with their first-ever appearance in the Western Maine Class C finals. Along the way, the team, led by tri-captains Glori Bollo, Jayne Tabb and Jeannine Conant, established several school records.

This season the team qualified for the playoffs for the sixth straight year—a new school record; they won 13 games—a new school record (the team finished 13-5 SPA and were 20-7 overall); they won three tournament games—a new team record; and they advanced to the Western Maine championships, losing to eventual state-champion Sacopee, to mark the furthest a Telstar softball team has ever advanced.

The team hit a solid .342 during the regular season and increased that to a lofty .429 for the first three playoff games. Leading the ladies during the regular season was Glori Bollo (.482), Mindy Robinson (.428) and Missy Johnson (.485). In the playoffs, Nancy Miller and Missy Johnson hit for a .500 average, Glori Bollo with a .428 and Jayne Tabb with a .357 output. Jeannine Conant, Mary Hutchinson and Buffi Taylor also finished with a solid .333 playoff average—Mary had a strong .365 regular season average—and Buffi finished at .312.

The defense was strong all year, led by the pitching of Heidi Belanger. Heidi finished the year 11-3, establishing a new school record for victories in a season. The infield—Jeannine Conant (third base), Nancy Miller (shortstop), Jayne Tabb (second base) and Mindy Robinson (first base)—was one of the strongest to ever play at Telstar. Jeannine and Jayne are three-year starters.

The outfield, led by strong-armed Glori Bollo in left and with the fleet Buffi Taylor and Mary Robinson in center and right, respectively, allowed very few extra-base hits this season. Catching was handled by Missy Johnson, who was vastly improved this year.

As with any good team, the bench depth was important to the Rebels and shows a lot of promise for the future. Senior Andrea Howe filled in at first base whenever Mindy Robinson was on the mound. Sophomores Kelly Bartlett, Brenda Taylor and Patti Jaro added a solid .360, .371, and .540 punch to the lineup. Freshmen Angie Jordan, Nicki Cross, Kristen Cushman, Mary Beth Hannon and Amy Thurston added speed and power to the team.

Highlights of the season included sweeping Berlin twice, for the first time in recent memory; Heidi Belanger throwing a no-hitter vs. Hebron Academy, the Rebels beating defending state champion Sacopee, 13-6, and, of course, making the playoffs and reaching the finals.

Coch Jim Lunney would like to thank the seniors for their leadership and support and would like to thank the underclassmen for providing a good base for a strong future. "Great season, ladies," he commented.

The pack tour includes activities and lodging at the ski resort's condos, plus extra-expense day trips such as: a bay cruise on Casco Bay, a boat ride on the Song Queen, a stage ride to the top of Mt. Wednesday, June 10, the Bethel Senior Citizens Club met at the Locke Mills Town Hall for a casserole, salad and cake dinner. Fifty-six were in attendance. A beautiful birthday cake, as well as gingerbread and whipped cream was enjoyed. At the birthday table were: Faith Brown, Grace Buck, Carolyn Brooks, Doris Fraser, and Bertha Flanders.

President Virginia Walker conducted the meeting and Randolph Stevens offered the blessing after the salute to the flag. There are now 76 members under 80, and 17 over.

Peggy Coolidge, the Sunshine Committee, reported five get well cards and two sympathy cards sent. Reports of Sarah Stevens, treasurer, and Barbara H. Brown, secretary, were read and accepted. Jean Coolidge reported on the trip scheduled for Wednesday, June 17, to St. Johnsbury, VT, with visits to the Maple Sugar Museum, the Fairbanks Museum, gift shops, and lunch included.

Lindley Wieden reported on the council meeting to be held at the Mexico Town Hall on July 10 at which Bethel will host the potluck dinner. Volunteers are needed to help with this.

The July meeting will be on the 8th at the Porell Campground in Hanover with a picnic. Members are asked to share in bringing hot dishes and salads as hot dogs and hamburgers will be cooked there. A brown bag auction will provide entertainment.

Mansfield Packard entertained with a delightful tape recording of his early life on Bird Hill. The stories would justify a book.

Members are reminded of Susan Farra's dance recital, "Cinderella," at Telstar on Thursday, June 18, at 4 p.m., at which senior citizens are admitted for a minimum charge.

Boys, girls ousted

Coch Lunney said the Rebel bats were just cold. The girls got only one hit at the South Hirant field. They also only gave up four, but together with three errors, that was enough hits to give Sacopee the edge.

Playing at Hall-Dale, in Farmingdale, the Rebel baseball team led 8-2 after 2 1/2 innings, but then a change of pitchers for Hall-Dale quieted Rebel bats, and the hosts pulled away to an 11-8 lead.

Telstar tied it in the top of the seventh, but the game slipped away, with two outs, as a Hall-Dale runner scored from third on a base hit to the right side of the infield.

With Ken Viger unavailable for pitching duties because of a dislocated elbow he suffered against Falmouth (in the semi-final game Tuesday), a tired Gary Williamson (who had pitched in every playoff game), got the nod. He was replaced by Corey Vail in the third inning.

Hall-Dale wound up losing the state Class C championship 5-3 Saturday to Washington Academy, of East Machias, while Sacopee repeated as state champions, downing Piscataquis, of Guilford, 4-3.

Taylor and Mary Robinson in center and right, respectively, allowed very few extra-base hits this season. Catching was handled by Missy Johnson, who was vastly improved this year.

Anglers asked to help in testing river fish

The Mt. Abram Fish & Game Association is asking local fishermen to help the state in determining the quality of fish taken from the Androscoggin River.

The association wants people to fish the river for the next two weeks and turn their catches in to Norm Dock, Bethel, who will freeze them and deliver them to the Matt Scott, chief biologist for the state, in August.

The specimen fish should be tagged with the information on when and where the fish were caught.

Mr. Dock said the tests will determine how successful the river clean-up program has been, as the state biologist will check the fish for chemical content from the mills. Mr. Dock said the river is the cleanest it has been in 50 years.

The multi-media first aid course is an eight-hour course that leads to American Red Cross Certification. Participants learn how to deal with shock, wounds, burns, poisoning, head injuries, and other injuries.

Information and registration for both courses is available by calling the Health Education Department, at 743-5933, ext. 471. Pre-registration is required and group size is welcome.

Selectmen mired

The selectmen next approved a request from the developers of Eden Ridge to hook up their units to the private sewer line in the subdivision. The selectmen made it clear that this was not permission to tie in the subdivision with the municipal sewer, and they told the developers they wanted to be able to check the sewer work before the developers covered it. The developers have been covering the sewer trenches before inspection.

David Thurston, owner of the Sudbury Inn, came before the board to challenge a ruling handed down two weeks ago. At that time the board approved a permit for Mr. Thurston to tie in two new toilets and a bar sink—all part of his new basement bar being built at the inn—to the Clark Street sewer, provided he replaces most of the sewer line along Clark Street. The reasoning was that the Clark Street line fills up with infiltrated water and already backs up into houses along the street, and therefore could not accept more waste unless it is re-built. Mr. Thurston figured the cost of replacing the sewer line at $5,000.

Monday night he argued that the Bethel Inn is being required to replace a portion of the Broad Street sewer at a cost of $36,000, in order to install about 80 toilets. That comes to less than $500 per toilet, he noted. On the other hand, he is being asked to spend $5,000 on improving the town sewer just so he can hook up two toilets. That averages out to $2,500 per flush, he pointed out.

Don Brooks, who is doing the plumbing work for the new bar, said the present six-inch line on Clark Street should hold double the seven residences already on it. (The Sudbury Inn proper is tied into the Main Street sewer, but since the basement bar is so low, it would require a pump to get the waste water from the bar area up to that line.)

However, sewer plant worker Rob Gundersen said the line backs up regularly, primarily because ground-water enters the line, which is mostly clay pipe.

"You mean a six-inch line can't handle seven residences?" Mr. Brooks asked. Mr. Gundersen confessed that such was the case.

Mr. Thurston said he considered it the town's responsibility to take care of the line if it was, in fact, in such bad shape. Mr. Brooks concurred: "If the sewer is not capable of doing its job, the town ought to fix it."

Selectman Arlan Jodrey said, "We have a big problem and we can't afford to spend any big dollars without getting help."

Mr. Thurston said he could understand that, but, "I don't see why I should pay for the whole thing."

As the discussion wore on, Mr. Brooks pointed out that he and Mr. Thurston had decided to move the toilets so they could flush into the Main Street sewer; that left only the bar sink to connect into the Clark Street sewer line.

Selectman Jodrey said even that extra amount of gray water could cause the line to bother. "We're going to be in deep soup if it backs up into everybody's house."

Selectman Pat Doon then suggested that further discussion be postponed, at which point Mr. Thurston and Mr. Brooks left the meeting. When discussion continued—after the board dealt with some other matters—Mr. Jodrey said, "I don't think that adding to a line that's got a problem is the answer."

Town Manager Rodney Lynch pointed out that the new owners of the Thurston's former property on Clark Street, adjus-

No action yet on police

The selectmen did not discuss the police situation at their regular meeting Monday night. They will hold a special meeting tomorrow (Thursday) night, but it was unclear at press time whether they will tackle the question at that meeting.

Mr. Lynch said the matter of hiring a new chief is too important to be done hastily. Also to be decided by the selectmen is how to utilize the extra $24,000 voted put into the police budget.

The total amount of money appropriated by T.V. Meeting last Tuesday (not including loans and carryovers from previous budgets) was $664,967.

This will be partially offset by $18,000 in revenue sharing and a $5,000 donation from Gould in lieu of taxes. The amount to be raised by taxation will be further reduced by using $225,000 from surplus.

Thus, the net amount to be raised from taxation is $16,967, plus tax money for the school district and the county government.

State officials caution on exploding fireworks

State officials remind citizens that having or using fireworks without a permit is a violation of Maine law.

"The tragedy is not just disobeying the law, but also the serious injury that can result, as happened a few years ago when four people were hospitalized after their car exploded from fireworks they were bringing into Maine," said State Fire Marshal Don Bisset, of the Maine Department of Public Safety.

"The only legal fireworks in Maine are paper or plastic caps (as used in cap guns) and sparklers, unless it's an exhibition for which a permit has been issued by the State Fire Marshal's office," Mr. Bisset said.

The maximum penalty for disobeying the law is a $100 fine and one month in jail.

cent to the inn, are converting the house into at least three condo units, which will be hooking into the sewer shortly through the existing tie-in. He noted that this will add much more waste to the line than the bar sink would. Mrs. Doon concurred: "Fuzzy's sink is negligible in comparison."

The other concern the selectmen had with the work being done at The Sudbury was that the Clark Street sewer line was covered over with boulders (from the inn's foundation) and fill to prepare a new parking lot. This, the selectmen said, would eventually constrict or break the line, which is plastic pipe in that area.

The board voted to have the town manager discuss with Mr. Thurston the possibility of his agreeing to dig up about 60-feet of the Clark Street line, remove the boulders from around it, replace it and recover it. In exchange, it was suggested, he would get a permit to hook up the outflow from his bar sink into the Clark Street line.

Mr. Lynch spoke with Mr. Thurston yesterday and was supposed to have a report from him, and a recommended course of action for the selectmen, at a special selectmen's meeting scheduled for tomorrow (Thursday) night.

In other action, the selectmen, upon recommendation of the town clerk, voted that after July 1, Bethel will no longer issue automobile transfers for out-of-town residents. Town Clerk Merton Brown informed the board that in recent months his office had handled 347 transfers, and 99 of them were from non-residents. "It consumes time and space

Cheryl Lord sang the choral selection.

The graduates collected over $15,000 in grants, awards, scholarships and financial aid. Principal Ted Davis announced. Most of the awards were presented last Wednesday night, at the Awards ceremony, but some were announced later.

(and) It's out of hand," he said. He further pointed out that most bad checks taken in by the town are from out-of-towners.

In yet another action, the board voted 4-0 (Victor Coolidge was absent) to send a letter to Gould Academy urging the school staff to park their cars in the parking lot on Elm Street rather than on Church Street, as they have been doing. If this is not done, the selectmen warned, they will set a time limit for cars parked on Church Street.

The selectmen voted among themselves for new officers. Re-elected chairman of the board was Arlan Jodrey. Elected vice-chairman was Arthur Gilbert.

They also interviewed candidates for two vacancies on the Planning Board. Interviewed were Reggie Brown, Donna Reinington, Jan Baker and Deb Dohrmann. The selectmen voted among themselves for new officers. Re-elected chairman of the board was Arlan Jodrey. Elected vice-chairman was Arthur Gilbert.

In other action, the selectmen, upon recommendation of the town clerk, voted that after July 1, Bethel will no longer issue automobile transfers for out-of-town residents. Town Clerk Merton Brown informed the board that in recent months his office had handled 347 transfers, and 99 of them were from non-residents. "It consumes time and space

Ballerina in Bethel

Denise Pons, prima ballerina of the Boston Ballet, will be the guest artist at The Upson Playhouse on July 11-12. She will appear, with flute accompaniment, under the great striped tent on Saturday, July 11, and Sunday, July 12, at 1 p.m. and 12:30 p.m., respectively. The Upson Playhouse is located in the gardens of the Hammons House, on Broad Street, Bethel.

Ms. Pons began her formal dance training in New Orleans, with Joseph Giacoppe. At the age of 13 she received an American Ballet Theater scholarship and for many years thereafter spent summers dancing with that organization. Texas Christian University awarded Ms. Pons a Nordan scholarship and she attended TCU for one year until 1977, when she moved into the professional dance world as a member of the San Francisco Ballet. She has also danced as a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. She joined the Boston Ballet as a soloist in 1982.

Ticket subscriptions and information on the Upson Playhouse's picnic plays and the Children's Tent Theater series is available at Edelweiss Country Store

The weather seems to have improved some, thank goodness. I hope it will stop being so humid for awhile. I could sure stand it if it did.

Last Thursday, Wynona came up from Lewiston and took me to North Bridgton for my treatment as Kariann needed to be seen again. She was a good girl and let the doctor treat her and get it straightened out from her fall. I didn't do too much in the afternoon as we were all planning to go to West Paris Grange for the three point meeting that evening. It was preceded by a potluck supper with each grange bringing something to help out. Had a good meeting and all in all, a good time.

Wynona came up again on Friday and took me home with her as I wanted to go see her adult education. I didn't know any of the folks who were graduating but just wanted to see what was going on.

Nosey, you could call me, but was I glad I went! It was wonderful to see the enthusiasm of all the folks there, giving their love and support to family members who were graduating. Caps and gowns were worn by the graduates as are regular high school folks and it did a lot for the folks who were wearing them. There was even a lady in a wheel chair who had had to have Wynona come to her apartment to give her the GED tests, but she got a one-of-a-kind greeting from the crowd. It was wonderful to see the hall so near full and if they keep on having more and more graduates, they will have to have a large hall. A video tape was made of the program, giving the graduates a chance to buy one for remembering the courage they had to go back to school after years and get their diplomas. At the get together afterward, the graduates were lined up being congratulated by all and some folks help up a sign that they had made that said, "Congratulations Mom-Grandmother."

If that doesn't show what it means to the family as well as the graduate, I don't know what would. I was a great sight to see. Awards were given for different things, making it even more impressive and good. All can say is that I am glad I went and enjoyed the sights and sounds of those adults getting the recognition they deserved for going back and working to get their diplomas.

Eveline read with interest about "open house" for the new Woodstock School located on the road to "Pinhook." Eveline graduated from old Woodstock High in 1927 and God willing she will attend the 60th reunion of her class at Telstar on June 13. There are four living members, Mary Mills, Carrie Robinson, Lempi (Korhonen) Wyman, and Eveline. Eveline has her fingers crossed as she has been sick all the week and been to doctor twice, and went to Stephens Memorial Hospital for tests June 11.

Arnold Coffin had a dentist's appointment at Bethel and a doctor's appointment at Norway this weekend. Belated congratulations to all the graduating seniors, both old and young, in all of our towns.

Mrs. Florence Isley, who lives with her son and daughter-in-law, Nathan and Roberta Isley, will celebrate her 100th birthday on June 15. She will go to Amesbury, Mass., to visit relatives so she had a new hair "do" today. She is a very spry lady and enjoys work on the farm. Happy birthday Florence. We hope you have many more.

Nature Conservancy donates land to Forest

The Maine Chapter of The Nature Conservancy has transferred nearly 1,900 acres surrounding Virginia Lake, in Stowham and Lovell, to the White Mountain National Forest.

The Conservancy purchased the land last December, for $925,000, with the understanding that it would later transfer it to the WMNF.

The secluded and unspoiled Virginia Lake area is habitat for loons and moose, and a favorite recreation spot in the region. The U.S. Forest Service will manage the property for dispersed recreational activities such as boating, hiking and cross-country skiing.

car but didn't have any luck so will have to take it to a garage to get them changed.

We were surprised in the early afternoon by a call from Ivy Bartlett. She had come to visit Peggy and we visited with her for a little before they went up to Peggy's abode. It was nice to see her. Russell worked in the garden spraying the dead little bugs and then after supper, rotated up where he had pulled the greens so he could plant string beans to see if they would grow there. It is hard to know what to try next.

Forgot to say that Peggy went to the dance of West Paris Saturday night and said they had a good crowd and a good time. There are never enough men for all the women to dance with but they dance with one another and have a time good just the same. She hopes to be able to go again in the near future.

One never knows what the day will bring but hope it will be a good one for all concerned. If we live from one day till the next and don't look too far ahead, we may all be better off, so take care one and all!

Some has asked me to repeat the advice I gave to seniors some years back. So go for it, class of '87—Now that all the excitement is over, your diplomas and tassels are now mementos of the past, your class flowers pressed and put away, and you have been told by everybody else what's best for you to do, maybe, at the tall end, add my two cents worth. So as you step out into the hard, cruel world that lies ahead—please be aware of these few facts—

1. White and colored clothes cannot be washed together in one machine. Regardless of popular myths—dryers do not eat socks.

2. A diet of junk food alone will get you nowhere except to the emergency room.

3. Purchase a reliable alarm clock. It is harsher, more persistent than Mom's yelling. Promptness is a virtue.

4. Late nights and manual work don't mix, suddenly an 8 hour day drags into two 16's.

5. Clothes tossed on the floor will wrinkle and closets packed to overflowing can be extremely dangerous when the door is opened suddenly.

6. Drawers filled to capacity with an assortment of underwear, stationery, potato chips, and other sundry items have a tendency to: A-not close properly, and B-mildew, mold or rot.

7. Beds not made properly cause backaches, and wrinkles in sheets, bed sores.

8. Whispering, writing notes and laughing during work hours can cause an abrupt cancellation of a paycheck, permanently.

9. A tolerance of roommate's bad habits must be nurtured. Co-habitation is a learning experience. (It does not come naturally, ask your parents if this is true.)

10. Factory work causes broken nails, calluses, humps, lumps, and bruises. Severed limbs too if safety rules are not observed. Stay alert.

11. Fool language is obnoxious anywhere.

12. Dirty dishes cause food poisoning.

Hey, perhaps living with ol' Mom wasn't so bad after all. Come on let's give her a break. She needs a rest. You'll get the hang of it!

Seriously, now, congratulations and best wishes to all of you, and may you meet success in whatever you attempt. Remember, one does not ever fail, if one at least tries with his heart!

So—on with life—much luck—God Bless and Peace!

Mrs. Eleanor Nelson is taking care of her two grandchildren, Matthew and Molly, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nelson, are on a trip.

The Russell Dudley place is now up for sale, also the old Ernest McAllister place on the schoolhouse road.

There was an all parish church service here on Sunday, June 14.

Mrs. Geneva Tripp and her sister, Mrs. Carolyn Helno went to Ledgeview, West Paris one day this week and took their grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Leonard, who lives there out for dinner as it was her 102nd birthday. She is still very alert and loves to go out for rides.

Mrs. Helen Grover still remains with her daughter, Joyce, in Norway. We will all be glad to have her back when she feels better.

Brenda Piles and friend went to Jefferson, N.H., Sunday. They visited several yard sales on the way.

Literacy awareness evening held June 1

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education hosted Literacy Awareness Evening at Telstar Regional High School last Monday, June 1. Director Cathy Newell said the session was planned to initiate activities in the SAD #44 area to increase awareness of literacy services for adults.

Attending the session were: Ann Holt, Telstar faculty and SAD #44 Adult Education; Sue Wight, Newry Community Church; Mary Lyon, Jackson-Silver Post, American Legion and Auxiliary, and a former literacy volunteer in Portland; Muriel Whitney, Bethel Area Health Center; Sylvia Wight, Newry, Adult Education Advisory Council; Becky Inman, prospective tutor; Kathy Cummings, Bethel, interested citizen; Bob Anderson, Albany, Adult Education Advisory Council; Merrill Bittner, SAD #44 Adult Education guidance; Don Sandstrom, Newry, prospective tutor; Carolyn Colby, Greenwood, Adult Education Advisory Council; Mary Isham, Albany, Adult Education Advisory Council; Shirley Hodson, West Bethel, prospective tutor; and Cathy Newell, SAD #44 Adult Education director.

Judy Green, director of Adult Education in SAD #17 and a member of the Project Literacy U.S. Task Force, presented a program on Literacy Awareness. She outlined statistics relating to illiteracy in the U.S.—one in five adults is functionally illiterate, meaning they cannot read, write or compute at a level necessary to function in modern society. She described the cost of illiteracy in terms of lost productivity, waste and accidents in the workplace, and in terms of the devastating effect on the self-esteem of the illiterate individual. Some of the reasons that adults are illiterate have been identified as lack of services at the time they were in school, family problems, such as illness, alcoholism or abuse which interfered with the learning process, chronic absenteeism or frequent family moves, and learning disabilities.

Work with illiterates has shown that it is possible to learn to read as an adult because methods employed focus on one-to-one instruction, using varied approaches and techniques, in a setting in which the student is comfortable. The biggest motivators for student participation were identified as jobs and children. Ms. Green spoke of the services provided by local adult education programs and Literacy Volunteers, as well as the PLUS campaign, which is bringing media resources, both TV and print, as well as support from the business community, into the battle against illiteracy.

The group discussed the need for publicity and agreed that it is necessary to develop special ways to get the message about available services to potential students and other methods to publicize the issue to community members, families, clergy, employers, and school personnel.

The Maine Tutor Training Course, developed as an expression of Literacy Volunteer training, will be offered in SAD #44 during the summer or fall. Volunteers will then be available to work with students in Learning Center settings, or in homes. Recruitment will be seen as one part of the tutor's job in concert with the adult education office. During the summer, new students will be served by tutors already trained, or absorbed into the Wednesday night Learning Center. So far Don Sandstrom, Bob

OPEN WEEK NIGHTS TIL 8:00 PM

THIS WEEK AT THE
Moses Mason House

Society Life Member Ernest Holt of Hanover has provided additional information on Olive Grey Frost and her sister Mary Ann Frost. Olive Grey Frost, daughter of Aaron and Susan Grey Frost, born in the little town of Bethel, Maine, July 24, 1816. She was religiously inclined from an early age and would often go to a secret place and pour out her heart to God. Working as a seamstress in Dixfield, Maine, she met Elder Duncan McDonald and became the Mormon (Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints) faith. She later went to England with her sister, Mary Ann and Husband, Perley F. Pratt, a famous Mormon missionary. On the return trip she caught the measles while on the boat in the Mississippi River, and never fully recovered. She was delighted upon reaching Nauvoo, Illinois, to find her father, mother, and two sisters there who had also joined the church, making six of the Frost family so associated. She married Brigham Young at the age of twenty eight in February 1845 and died Oct. 6, 1845, of pneumonia. She is probably buried in Nauvoo, Illinois. She was Young's seventh wife. Evidently Aaron and Susan Grey Frost returned to Bethel and possibly the two daughters accompanied them as they are all buried in Mount Will Cemetery (in North Bethel). Mary Ann went to Utah with Pratt and is buried in Pleasant Grove, Utah. Pratt was murdered in Arkansas in 1857. Mary acted as No. 1 when he married his other wives."

Recent contributions to the 1987 Endowment Campaign of the Bethel Historical Society include those from the United Methodist Women in memory of Mrs. Christine Kimball; Ronald and Marguerite Kendall; Bethel, in memory of Mary Carroll; Stanley R. Howe, Bethel, in memory of Mary Carroll; Harry and Barbara Kuzky, Bethel, in memory of Mary Carroll; Pearline McMillin, Bethel, in memory of Mary Carroll; Gladys Krebs, Essex, Vt., in memory of Mary Carroll; Margaret Joy Tibbets, Bethel, in memory of Dr. Raymond R. and Pearl Ashby Tibbets; Joanne Crouse, Danvers, Mass., in memory of Ernestine Philbrook Jackson; Ernest and Denise Powers, Gorham, N.H., in memory of Mary Carroll; John R. Russell, Trumbull, Conn., in memory of Mary Carroll; David and Jeannette Nichols, Milan, N.H., in memory of Mary Carroll; Lee and Judy Carroll, Gorham, N.H., in memory of Mary Carroll. Much appreciation is expressed to all of the above for their generosity.

Newest member of the Bethel Historical Society is Fred Hayden of Mexico.

Recent donations to the society's archival collections include a copy of William R. Chapman's Festival Book 1910 from Stanley R. Howe, copies of Windham: A Pictorial History, The History of Henderson Memorial Baptist Church from 1810 to 1985, The Flood of 1987, all gifts of Ben B. Grover; a recording of Lord's Orchestra (Side 1: Song Lake Pavilion, March 1958, and Side 2: Top Hat Pavilion, October 1962, the last dance for Lord's Orchestra) from Donald Lord. Much gratitude is due these individuals for these fine additions to the collections of the society. Also received recently is the second in The Nearby History Series, a book by Barbara Howe, Delores Fleming, Emory Kemp, and Ruth Overbeck, Houses and Homes: Exploring Their History, a guide to researching old houses. By OLIVE DAVIDS

Bertha Benoit spent the afternoon Friday with Olive Davis.

I just called Lillian Harmon on the telephone this Friday and learned she is home from the hospital but weak from the seige with her stomach.

We noticed that Ellsworth Hathaway is sawing out a lot of lumber in his saw mill on Route 26. He is building a cottage on North Pond shore between Bryant Pond and Locke Mills.

Richard Felt and group played for a dance at West Paris Saturday night. They also played Saturday at the booth set up, which was held from 10 to 3.

Olive Davis was in Bridgton Sunday to see her sister Lillian Harmon and son Steve.

Esther Davis has been in Florida for the graduation of her granddaughter, Jackie Tibbett went with her. Esther remained for three weeks.

The tame deer was feeding in my field by the big hill Saturday. She stayed there all afternoon. Jim was mowing and she still stayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young called on me Friday. They are at their cottage in Shadow Land for the next two months.

They had been to Bridgton called on relatives and classmates.

Our hot weather left as soon as it came. Now the days are rather cold in the morning. The fact is, I have run the furnace every morning to warm up the house.

Joyce Hathaway met her daughter, Jane Nirt at Portsmouth and Kittery and they went shopping in those areas. It was Jane's birthday this week. Jane lives in Massachusetts. They had fun doing something different.

Karen Hathaway made the dean's list at Plymouth State College. She is studying accounting.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my family and friends for the many cards, flowers, and kindnisses during my stay at the Osteopathic Hospital of Maine and since my return home.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's StudyNotes from the Woodstock Historical Society*Following is a description of President John Quincy Adams—*

"The boy-winner Adams led a Spartan life in the White House. He rose at five, read the Bible and took a walk or a swim in the Potomac ... But one of his diversions was billiards. When the news was made public that he had installed a billiard table in the White House ... the public demanded him as a profligate." —John and Alice Durant

A portion of verse 4, Psalm 8 reads, "What is man that thou art mindful of him?"

When on a crystal clear winter night, you have looked up into the heavens and seen the beauty of uncountable stars against the inky blackness of the sky, while on the horizon behind the trees on a hilltop crested the full moon, have you asked yourself this question? Or perhaps you would prefer to consider the beauty of a summer morning, as the rays of the rising sun turned the morning mist into an aura of splendor.

Or even the awesome view we gaze upon from the top of a mountain or even from a hill.

The splendor of snow covered trees, in the sunlight of a winter morning.

The beauty of fall as foliage offers us a collection of color, beyond imagination.

What is man that they art mindful of him?

The beauty we see around us would be wasted had God not given us eyes to have seen its glory, and mind to receive and evaluate the pictures that the eyes reflect to it.

Yes, God is a gracious God, even the most remote places can often afford a certain amount of beauty.

But beauty can fade away, the stars dim and pass from our sight with coming daylight, the morning mists rise and disappear.

The mountain top views are oft left unseen because of clouds or fog. The leaves fall and the snow melts from the trees to the ground.

Has God forgotten man?

Hardly so. Those words still stand out in my mind. What is man that thou art mindful of him?

If we could only put a sense of value on the things that God had given us, we would find that monetary terms could not express the value.

Are we too blind spiritually to see the unseen things that God has given us?

In John 3: 3-4, John speaking of Christ, says, "In him was life, and the life was the light of men, and the light shineth in the darkness and the darkness comprehendeth it not."

Man can so easily see with eyes that see. Rather it be beauty or ugliness our eyes see and absorb because it is as we are of substance.

But it is more difficult to see the spiritual gifts of God. When the stars dim with the dawn, we know that again on another night we will again shine forth with beauty. Flowers fade and leaves fall but life again return to them, or others will take their place.

Truly, God is sufficient in material gifts.

In St. John 3:16, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believed in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. This is a promise of God. That same God, who caused the psalmist to wonder "What is man that He was mindful of us?" Not only does He give us beauty to enjoy, substance for our survival, even things

Helen Ring has returned home after visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ring, Freeport. On Saturday, Arthur, Jane, and Helen Ring attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Glines, Sr., Danbury, N.H.

Woodstock Senior Citizens met last Thursday with a potluck dinner and Headmaster Bill Clough, for making the facilities available to Rotaract, and to the pleasant, helpful guidance provided by the professional kitchen staff. Thanks.

Rotary information was provided by George Noll. George talked about the mine trip planned on July 21 for the Spanish student group. All Rotarians will have an opportunity to meet the students at a breakfast meeting on that date.

President Dave Preble also thanked all persons and organizations for their support in the graduation breakfast project.

Also Dave talked about the district conference and the Spanish Student Exchange Program.

The date for our summer social to be held at the Glines' residence will be June 27 at 4:30 p.m. This is one of the few planned socials of our club and it deserves 100 percent participation. A great time to socialize and have a good time with our gracious hosts, Rolle and Phil Glines.

The program chairman for the meeting will be Rollie Glines. His guest speaker was Chad Converse, White Mountain National Forest. Chad talked about the Virginia Lake Wilderness Area recently acquired by the Forest Service. Specific direction for the management of the area has not been finalized. Also, a slide presentation of the White Mountains was shown by Chad. The slide show was professionally produced and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Our guest speaker for the meeting of June 23 will be Wende Gray, marketing director for the Sunday River Skiway Corp. Development planning will be presented.

Our guest speaker for the meeting of June 23 will be Subject Is the Universe. Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force? Golden Text-Habakkuk 2:14. For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

SAD #44 adult ed offering courses this summer

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program will offer a number of courses this summer on Wednesday evenings at Teister Regional High School. Information concerning the courses will be mailed to both local and FED patrons in SAD #44 towns during the week of June 15, with classes set to start on Wednesday, July 8. Those wishing to enroll in a course will do so, without stop or delay, at the Adult Education Office.

Courses to be offered include Sign Language, Watercolor, Limerick Poetry, Painting, the Internet, Safety Bus Driver Training with D.J. Smith as the teacher, Introduction to Computers with Holly Sysko, Refresher Math with Paul Morey, English as a Second Language, GED Preparation and Adult Learning Center for Basic Skills in Reading, Writing and Math with Melanie Ellsworth, CPR with Deb Wheeler, First Aid with Deb Wheeler as instructors, Adult Guidance Services with Merrill Bittner, and Exercises with Pat Morey. Exercise will remain on Monday evenings at the SAD #44 building.

Classes will be held on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Adult Outdoor Volleyball will be held on Wednesday evenings at the Crosscut Park School starting at 6:30 p.m. Deb Wheeler will be the coordinator.

Director Cathy Newell said that this represents the first year attempt to provide additional courses during the summer, and that the concentration is an vocational and pre-vocational subject matter. "We specifically hope to attract area adults who are interested in taking the opportunity to enroll in offerings which will help them prepare for vocational classes by brushing up in math or basic computer knowledge, or through career guidance resources in identifying educational programs or working on resumes or job seeking skills," she added. She said that the courses are for adults who are able to work as bus drivers or bus driver substitutes. The summer course will prepare potential drivers to take the examination. Road basics will be arranged on an individual basis.

Mrs. Newell added that the courses offered may be different each year, and some will be advertised in the newspapers. A full fall line-up, ranging from vocational to adult school computer achievement classes will begin in September.

Suggestions for fall courses are welcome at any time, and should be relayed to Mrs. Newell at 824-2780 or 824-2883.

Boiler Room Restaurant might convert to condos

The Boiler Room Restaurant, in Bryan, has been closed for over a year, might be torn down to make way for townhouse condominiums. Owner Jim Robiller is considering building townhouses on the site if he can sell the restaurant in the near future.

He and wife Louise closed the restaurant over a year ago after he became ill with cancer. Mrs. Robiller was diagnosed as having cancer. During a year of treatment she has been determined to live long enough to want to operate the restaurant.

Last year it was sold at auction to two men from the Norway area. They are working on the $100,000 deposit. Since then there have been no takers for the lakefront property, which consists of 1/4 acre plus the restaurant building, 1 1/2 stories.

It is part of the former club.

Mr. Robiller said he envisions building four two-story townhouses on the property, including garage and sunroom.

Pat Morey, Exercise will remain on Monday evenings at the SAD #44 building.

Exercise classes will be held on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Deb Wheeler will be the coordinator.

Newly voters approve flood plain ordinance

First of summer biathlon series in Bethel June 21

A public hearing, followed by a special town meeting, will be held Monday evening at the Woodslock Planning Board to adopt a revised flood plain management ordinance and to act on changes in the zoning ordinance, as recommended by the Woodslock Planning Board of Selectmen.

A model flood plain management ordinance was presented and it was explained that unless this ordinance were adopted, the town would later than that date face federal flood insurance rates.

At the town meeting after the hearing, which lasted two hours, the revised code was accepted.

During the hearing, which lasted two hours, some of the proposed changes were rejected, and some accepted. One proposed change, which would require a minimum lot size of one acre per unit for multi-unit housing, was recommended that the article be defeated on reconsideration of the two bills, as had been done with other proposed changes.

Some of those were: increasing fees for permits, requiring all new lots to be cleared to ground level, and requiring roads to be paved to the top floor. This is to enable firefighters to rescue people from the landing in case of fire.

The other changes in the revised code were accepted.
